

Jennifer Mann

Senior Vice President and President of North America
The Coca-Cola Company

Jennifer Mann is corporate senior vice president and president of North America for The Coca-Cola Company. Mann began leading the company's largest operating unit on January 1, 2023, with a focus on accelerating growth as a purpose-driven total beverage company.

Mann is a proven operator with more than 25 years of experience at The Coca-Cola Company. Her growth mindset and people-first style has fueled her success leading high-performing teams across many areas of the Coca-Cola business.

Most recently, Mann served as president of Global Ventures and was responsible for globally scaling acquisitions and brands, including Costa Coffee and Coca-Cola's investment in Monster Beverage Corp. Prior to Global Ventures, Mann was chief people officer and chief of staff for Coca-Cola Chairman and CEO James Quincey, driving culture evolution and engagement.

From 2012 to 2015 as vice president and general manager of Coca-Cola Freestyle, Mann accelerated its global expansion across the Coca-Cola system. Additional roles of increased responsibility spanned operations and customer leadership: vice president, Foodservice & On-Premise Strategy and Marketing for Coca-Cola Refreshments; director, McDonald's Customer & Consumer Operations and director, Good Answer. Mann joined Coca-Cola in 1997 as a manager in the National Customer Support division of North America.

Mann holds a degree in accounting from Georgia State University and serves on the board of directors for Boys & Girls Clubs of America, Morehouse College, American Beverage, fairlife LLC and Coca-Cola Consolidated. She resides in her hometown of Atlanta with her family.